NOTICE

Informing the Appellate Court of Pending Motion Postponing Rendition at Time of Filing the Notice of Appeal

Upon consideration of Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.020(i) (providing that a “timely and authorized motion under rule 9.330 or 9.331 is filed, the order shall not be deemed rendered as to any party until all of the motions are either withdrawn or resolved by the filing of a written order”), if a motion postponing rendition is pending in the lower tribunal on the date the notice of appeal is filed, the person filing the notice of appeal should immediately file, in this Court, a Notice of Pending Motion Postponing Rendition informing this Court of the pendency of the motion so that the appeal may properly be held in abeyance. This Court should be informed within ten days of the date the lower tribunal disposes of that motion so that the appeal may then timely proceed in this Court.
